KNOX COLLEGE, with its preparatory department, was chartered by the state legislature at the session of 1836-7. The preparatory department was opened in the fall of 1838, with 40 students. Its numbers have been regularly and gradually increasing till the present time. The average attendance, including both departments, has been above 160 for the last year.

Two buildings designed for the accommodation of college students, have been some time in use, though in part occupied at present by the library, philosophical and chemical apparatus lecture and recitation rooms. An Academy has been erected, and so far finished, that it has been used for the greater part of the year. It will be fully completed during the ensuing vacation. It is a neat and substantial brick edifice, 50 feet by 36 —two stories. The upper story is appropriated to the Female Branch. A main college edifice of stone, is likewise resolved on, a stone-quarry purchased, and men engaged to excavate the materials for the walls. It is designed to be one hundred feet by fifty six, three large stories high, and to contain a chapel, library, and other public rooms.

The teaching faculty consists, as shown by the catalogue, of six gentlemen; five of them graduates of colleges, besides the teachers of the female branch of the Academic Department.— And the trustees are happy in the belief that the high measure of confidence enjoyed by this institution is destined to continue and increase. A full assortment of books and stationary wanted in the institution, will hereafter be kept for sale in the village.

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT.

Students in this department enjoy the supervision, and, to some extent, the instruction of the college faculty.

The studies are such as are usually attended to in similar institutions, and such as are calculated to prepare the pupils for college,—for teaching school, and for the various pursuits of life. Some of the studies will be attended to constantly; such as Arithmetic, Grammar, Geography, and Algebra; while Natural Philosophy, Astronomy, Botany and Chemistry will be attended to once a year, and in the order just named.

Lectures in Natural Philosophy and also in Chemistry will be given by the Professors of college, accompanied with experiments. Lectures occasionally will be given on other subjects. Declamation and reading of composition alternately, will be required of each male pupil, once in two weeks. The young ladies will write compositions once in two weeks, to be read in their department, and subject to the criticism of the Preceptress.

Measures have been taken to have a systematic course of female education, to be completed in three years. The order of study is as follows:

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION AND DISCIPLINE.

Devotional exercises, including the reading and exposition of the Scriptures, will be attended to daily; on which, as well as on the worship of God on the Sabbath, all the members of the institution are expected to attend. The discipline is designed to be parental, and conducted on gospel principles. Every student will be expected to abstain from all immoralities, and to exhibit a cheerful promptitude in the discharge of every relative and social duty.

EXAMINATIONS.

There will be a public examination of the students of the Academic Department, at the close of the first term, to continue two days, viz. Tuesday and Wednesday. On the evenings of these days, there will be a public exhibition.

The examination of the College classes will begin on Wednesday previous to the Commencement, and close on the following Tuesday. These examinations are public.

PUBLIC PERFORMANCES.

Commencement occurs on the fourth Wednesday of June. On the day before Commencement, the College Societies hold their annual celebration, and orations are usually delivered by gentlemen invited from abroad.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

There are two terms of twenty weeks each in a year. The first commences on the first Wednesday of September, and will be followed by a vacation of two weeks; the second will commence on the first Wednesday of February and terminate on the fourth Wednesday of June.

EXPENSES.

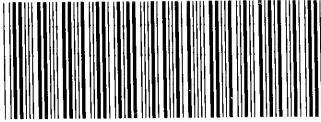

Tuition in the collegiate department, per year,	$20 00
" in preparatory department, "	12 to 16 00
Room rent in college building, "	6 00
Contingent expenses, "	2 00

The expenses, having been reduced to the lowest consistent amount, must invariably be paid in advance. No person will be received until he presents the treasurer's receipt; nor will any pupil be allowed to leave the institution without permission until the close of the quarter.

Board can be had in good families at from $1.00 to $1.50 per week, exclusive of washing and room rent. Permanent students will find facilities for reducing very materially their expenses. By manual labor, the industrious and enterprising can generally meet the expenses of their board. The old academy will soon be fitted up for the accommodation of the students of the academy, who desire rooms. A new building is contemplated for the same purpose, and will probably be erected in the ensuing year.

This institution is situated on the stage road from Peoria to Burlington, Iowa, in a healthy and delightful country, the population of which is rapidly increasing. The character of the inhabitants, the facilities for communication, the ample and convenient yet economical accommodations, and the success which has attended past efforts, conspire to invite the student, and encourage him in his efforts to prepare for usefulness.
